

Rank Consistency between Two Settings

Delta = category setting score - type setting score. Ranks are normalized because the two settings include different numbers of candidate models.